PRESS RELEASE

“There will be Blood”

The next showing at the Liphook Millennium Centre Cinema in Liphook will be “There will be Blood” on Friday 1 August.

There Will Be Blood is a vivid, sprawling parable about greed and moral corrosion. Set in the majestic American Southwest circa 1900, Paul Thomas Anderson's film rides to the box-office largely on Daniel Day-Lewis's volcanic performance as Daniel Plainview, the monstrous rags-to-riches oil-man.

In 1911, having already had some success with oil prospecting, Daniel Plainview (Daniel Day-Lewis) follows a tip-off to the community of Little Boston in California, accompanied by his adopted son H.W. (Dillon Freasier) and his right hand man Fletcher (Ciarán Hinds). There he finds oil aplenty, but also, thanks to a sprit of misanthropic competitiveness that has welled up within him, is set at odds not only with a rival oil company, but with local charismatic preacher Eli Sunday (Paul Dano), with a man claiming to be his half-brother (Kevin J. O'Connor), and even with H.W. The battles of wills continues to haunt Daniel until, many years later, he is once and for all "finished".

Doors open at 7.30pm and the performance starts at 8.00 pm. Tickets are priced at £4 with a concession of £3.00 for OAP (60 and over). Tickets are available from the Liphook Millennium Centre 01428 723889, Bramshott & Liphook Parish Council Office 01428 722988, and on the door. Tickets can also be ordered by email liphookmcentre@tiscali.co.uk for collection and payment on the night. A bar will be open and a range of refreshments will be on sale.

The film is classified as 15; suitable only for 15 years and older. No one younger than 15 may see a “15” film in a cinema.
